

Common Name: Cedar of Lebanon

Scientific Name: Cedrus libani

This tree, growing in Idlewild Park in Reno, was nominated by Jim Ross in 2002.

It measures 58 feet high, with a trunk circumference of 134 inches and a trunk diameter of 3 feet; it has a crown spread of 57 feet for a total of 206 points.

This tree was planted in the 1950s.

Cedar of Lebanon is native to Asia Minor, and is featured on the Lebanon's national flag.